SUZANNE HARRISON

One small island, six troubled lives, and the storm of the century is on its way.

In one of the world's most vibrant international cities, present day Hong Kong, the lives of six people become irreversibly intertwined. The past is catching up with those running from it, while the futures of others hangs dangerously in the balance. But who knows the most? And what will they do to keep it that way?

'Most people think of Hong Kong as simply high rises and a shopping mecca for cheap handbags. But there are loads of interesting characters, plenty of political intrigue, lovely locales to reveal, cultural crossroads - and I have tried to encompass all that in to this book. There have been some great books set in Hong Kong written in English, but I do think there could be many more. The city has a lot more going for it on the story telling front and I would like to get that out there to a wider audience.' Suzanne Harrison

'I thoroughly enjoyed reading this gripping and intriguing mystery... Not only is the story full of deep secrets and provocative characters but it also captures the many compelling and diverse facets of Hong Kong in the narrative. This captivating and dynamic book is a must for anyone who enjoys a stormy atmospheric ride set in a city rich in culture and intrigue.' Jules Hannaford, author of Fool Me Twice, Podcaster of Hong Kong Confidential

THE DOUBLE

ANN GOSSLIN

16 February 2021

Following a violent outburst at an awards ceremony, Vidor Kiraly, a prize-winning neuroscientist and Cambridge don, is sent to an isolated psychiatric clinic in the Swiss Alps. When the clinic's director, Anton Gessen, tries in vain to unearth the missing pieces of Vidor's life, he suspects his reluctant patient is not who he appears to be. After one of the patients at the clinic goes missing, Gessen has reason to doubt Vidor's self-proclaimed innocence. But what is he hiding, and who might be next?

Hidden in the depths of eighteenth-century London, a secret apothecary shop caters to an unusual kind of clientele. Women across the city whisper of a mysterious figure named Nella who sells well-disguised poisons to use against the oppressive men in their lives. But the apothecary's fate is jeopardized when her newest patron, a precocious twelve-year-old, makes a fatal mistake, sparking a string of consequences that echo through the centuries.

Meanwhile in present-day London, aspiring historian Caroline Parcewell spends her tenth wedding anniversary alone, running from her own demons. When she stumbles upon a clue to the unsolved apothecary murders that haunted London two hundred years ago, her life collides with the apothecary's in a stunning twist of fate—and not everyone will survive.

With crackling suspense, unforgettable characters and searing insight, The Lost Apothecary is a subversive and intoxicating debut novel of secrets, vengeance and the remarkable ways women can save each other despite the barrier of time.

MARIA GOODIN

Jay Lewis is a troubled soul. A single father, just trying to keep everything together, he knows he sabotages any real chance of happiness. Tormented by nightmares and flashbacks, he can't forget the events from one fateful night that steered the course of the rest of his life. Struggling against the crushing weight of guilt, Jay knows there are wrongs he needs to put right.

Determined to get closure, he seeks out old friends and a past love. But in his quest for a more peaceful future, is he ready to face the trauma of his past?

'I very much enjoyed this moving and absorbing book. In her compassionate depiction of one man's struggle to live with the aftermath of trauma and loss, Maria Goodin weaves together a compelling cast of characters, drawing the reader into Jay's quest to seek the forgiveness of others – and be able to forgive himself.'

One day the residents of a tenement house, in the Central Krakow, get locked down in the building. All windows and doors are locked, phone lines and the Internet are off. Seven people are cut off from the world. It quickly turns out that they are participating in a strange game played by the mysterious 'THEY'. Mutual suspicions begin, conflicts break out. Paranoia thickens. And finally, blood is shed. What initially seems to look like some sort of a trap from a horror movie, turns out to be a lockdown organised by the secret police.

The Institute is a compelling suspenseful thriller. It is also a very uncomfortable and troubling study of human fears.

PRAISE FOR BLINDED BY THE LIGHTS:

'Los Angeles has James Ellroy, Boston has Dennis Lehane, Oslo has Jo Nesbo. And Warsaw has its own two-fisted crime laureate in Jakub Żulczyk.' Tony Parsons

'Dark, dangerous, and seductive. A multi-layered story that – like his anti-hero's product – will assault your senses and leave you craving for more.' G.D. Abson

1944. The Battle of Kohima. James Ash dies leaving behind two families: his 'wife' Josmi and two children, Jay and Molly, and his parents and sister in England who know nothing about his Indian family.

2012. Emmie is raising her own daughter, Jasmine, in a world she wants to be very different from the racist England of her childhood. Her father, Jay, doesn't even have a photograph of the mother he lost and still refuses to discuss his life in India. Emmie finds comfort in the local museum – a treasure trove of another family's stories and artefacts.

Little does Emmie know that with each generation, her own story holds secrets and fascinations that she could only dream of.

Through ten decades and across three continents, The Ash Museum is an intergenerational story of loss, migration and the search for somewhere to feel at home.

PRAISE FOR REBECCA SMITH:

'Fans of Smith's sharply observed tales of contemporary life will find much to enjoy... this beautifully written, funny work.' The Times

'Charming, funny, witty and romantic.' Esther Freud

'Smith has plenty of good-humoured comedy up her sleeve, a grasp of dialogue and an eagle eye for the absurd.' Daily Mail

Key Selling Points:

- Critically acclaimed author of The Bluebird Café and other novels. Reviewed in The Times, Independent, Daily Mail and Literary Review.
- Intergenerational story of loss, migration and the search for somewhere to feel at home.
- Inspired by the author's own experience of being mixed race in the UK.
- A novel about families, what we unknowingly inherit, and the legacy of Colonialism.

Four babies have been kidnapped from four different maternity wards in Tel Aviv. With not a single lead to follow, all investigators can do is wait patiently for the suspect they call 'the Babysitter' to make their next move.

Four weeks earlier, on a quiet street, a medical student went out for a run and was killed by a hit and run driver. Then a second student went out and never returned. Daphne Dagan, a young, talented police officer, is first to realize that the hit and run and the kidnappings are related.

But she's also in the middle of her own battle - a recurring nightmare that's been haunting her for years. The strain of dealing with a real-life killer and kidnapper during the day, and the man who murders her in her sleep each night drive her into a place of darkness and despair from which she must escape if she is to catch 'The Babysitter'.

PRAISE FOR NIR HEZRONI:

'This book has a clever plot and plays upon the fear that there are hidden persons out there prepared to do us harm for obscure reasons... There are passages that make you gasp in horror.' Crime Review

THE EXILE AND THE MAPMAKER 16 June 2021

EMMA MUSTY

Theo, an aging Parisian cartographer, is desperately searching for the woman he once loved before Alzheimer's takes his memories of her.

Elise, his estranged daughter, moves in to take care of him. She still blames him for the tragic loss of her mother and is struggling with this new forced intimacy.

Nebay, an Eritrean refugee, becomes Theo's carer and friend. Unbeknownst to Elise, Nebay does not have a visa for France and is working illegally in order to support his sister.

Each is living a life of secrets, questions and uncertainty in a world where Nebay's very presence in France would be invisible on Theo's maps.

An important novel that is as compassionate as it is eye-opening, The Exile and the Mapmaker is a testament to the triumph of the human spirit.

THE BEAT OF LIFE

1 February 2021

A SURGEON REVEALS THE SECRETS OF THE HEART

REINHARD FRIEDL

The heart is our most important – and perhaps most mysterious – organ. Every day it pumps 9000 litres of blood and beats around 100,000 times. But the heart is more than just a pump. In all major human cultures, it is seen as the source of love, sympathy, joy, courage, strength and wisdom. Why is this so?

Having witnessed the extraordinary complexity and unpredictability of human hearts in the operating theatre – each one individual in its make-up, like a fingerprint – heart surgeon Reinhard Friedl went on a search for answers. He examined closely the latest findings in neurocardiology and psychocardiology, and in The Beat of Life he shares his discoveries, using riveting personal stories to illustrate the complex relationship between the heart, the brain and the psyche.

LEADING PEOPLE IN CHANGE

A PRACTICAL GUIDE

JENNIFER BRYAN

1 February 2021

ISBN (Paperback): 9781800316881

ISBN (Ebook): 9781800316898

Price: £12.99 (Paperback), £8.99 (Ebook)

Extent: 192 pages

Format: 149 x 209mm

Rights Held: World

Genre: Business / Change Management /
Leadership / Organisational Theory

In a world defined by dramatic technological and economic shifts, business organizations large and small are finding themselves having to adapt and transform at an unprecedented pace. While these demands have led to numerous theories of change management – often with over-complicated methodologies and purely technology-focused approaches – the fact remains that change is primarily about people.

Aimed at the ordinary line manager just as much as the director of a large company, this book is a short, simple account of practical steps to lead people through change successfully, with quick and easy chapters and pertinent case studies. Drawing on the author's own tried-and-tested ABChange Model, Leading People in Change: A Practical Guide will help you to find the change strategy that is right for your business.

"There are some good insights and clearly lots of experiences that she shares with the reader that could be really helpful in leading change." Steve Green, Director Business Programs, Microsoft

"In this book, Jen manages to successfully demystify the often ill-defined discipline of Change Management ... You'll learn enough from the included Case Studies alone to justify the cover price!" Sean Galloghly, Prosci Certified Change Management Advanced Instructor

Key Selling Points:

- Offers clear and practical approach to change management, with emphasis on people and well-being
- Topical reading for organizations dealing with Covid-19 disruption and the trend towards working from home
- Female voice in male-dominated discipline

Comparison Title:

DO I NEED A THERAPIST?

1 March 2021

DONNA BOTTOMLEY

UNPACKING THE FEAR AND CONFUSION AROUND SEEKING HELP FOR OUR MENTAL HEALTH

While society as a whole is becoming increasingly conscious of mental health, and the social consequences of the global Covid-19 pandemic has made the issue ever more salient, the idea of asking for professional help has largely remained taboo. The fear of being thought mad, weak or helpless, and the prospect of having to revisit personal trauma, have stopped many people from seeking out a therapist.

In this empathetic and practical guide, drawing on some of the latest studies in the field, psychotherapist Donna Bottomley examines these anxieties and argues that therapy should be just as acceptable as seeing a GP or booking your car into the garage, and needn't be our last resort. Do I Need a Therapist? provides insight into how we can acknowledge and overcome the dual-fear of not only what we think it means about us if we see a therapist, but the fear of our own emotions themselves. The book provides a framework through which we can plot what is upsetting us, and lays out what to expect from therapy and how to make it work for us. The many pathways towards finding help, whether in a traditional practice setting or via alternate routes made possible by modern technology are also discussed, alongside a tool to help you choose between the many therapies on offer.

ISBN (Paperback): 9781800316843
ISBN (Ebook): 9781800316850
Price: £12.99 (Paperback), £8.99 (Ebook)
Extent: 256 pages

A ROOM OF ONE'S OWN

VIRGINIA WOOLF

25 April 2021

Based on two talks given by the author, and first published in September 1929, Virginia Woolf's seminal essay revolves around the central claim that a woman must have money and a room of her own if she is to write fiction. Outlining the importance of education and financial independence, Woolf draws up a history of women writers and demonstrates how they had to operate as outsiders in a society that sought to exclude them.

"The only advice, indeed, that one person can give another about reading is to take no advice, to follow your own instincts, to use your own reason, to come to your own conclusions."

Richard Hollis, Director, Risk Factory

"As a long-time advocate for instructing children about Internet safety and the concepts of cyber security, it was a pleasure to introduce Nettie and Webby to my own children. I look forward to their further adventures!"

Becky Pinkard, CISO, Aldermore Bank PLC

"Nettie's creator is not only a globally recognised cybersecurity practitioner, specialising in security awareness and education, but also spent part of her life as a teacher and understands that little ones need to learn about the world, be careful but not be scared of what can be a great learning tool."

Jo Stewart-Rattray, Global Board Director, ISACA

ISBN (Paperback): 9781800315624

ISBN (Ebook): 9781800315631

Price: £14.99 (Paperback) £9.99 (Ebook)

Extent: 288 pages

Format: 152 x 229 mm

Rights Held: World

Translation Rights: Yes

In the UK and most countries today, a person's life chances are unfairly influenced by their socio-economic circumstances at birth. This has led to societal divides that have become wider and more pronounced as a result of the Covid-19 pandemic. There is now heightened awareness that the current state of affairs is unacceptable. Innovative approaches are urgently needed in order to combat social immobility.

Drawing upon the latest research, Social Mobility Cracked explores the factors that contribute to social immobility, and puts forward focused, innovative solutions. The book impresses upon readers that social mobility is a societal goal worth striving towards, and that societies can take strides in the right direction by harnessing the power of digital innovation. From democratizing the private tuition sector and enhancing the effectiveness of teaching and learning, to supporting inclusive recruitment practices, technologies can help to level the playing field. A heartfelt call to action, this book explores how this can be achieved.

Key Selling Points:

- Essential reading for those interested in social policy around technology, social mobility and education.
- Very topical in light of the Covid-19 pandemic and its technological consequences

Comparison authors:

The Myth of Meritocracy by James Bloodworth, Social Mobility and Its Enemies by Lee Elliot Major and Stephen Machin and The Fourth Education Revolution by Anthony Seldon

The author:

As the Executive Lead of the Institute for Ethical AI in Education (which is based at the University of Buckingham), Tom Moule is an authority on the societal and ethical impacts of artificial intelligence in education. In his role he has worked closely with numerous influencers from the technology and education sectors, the media, and policy and government. Prior to this, he worked as a teacher, primarily in schools in deprived areas, and was also employed by a leading education technology company.
